

US COAST GUARD 83' PATROL CUTTER

About the D-Day 83' Patrol Cutter :

The sixty 83' Patrol Cutters that formed Rescue Flotilla One during D-Day were modified to some extent to fill their role of rescue ships during the landings. Mousetrap rails, D/C launchers and some ammo boxes were removed, while in some instances more balsa rafts were secured on railings or pilot house.

Camouflage was changed to the darker Measure 14, and pennant numbers replaced by codes from 1 to 60. CGC-6 is famous for her skull and crossbones emblem on both sides of the pilot house.

The instructions and paint guide are based on some examples. It is recommended that modeler should do some research to model a specific cutter.

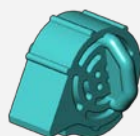

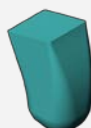

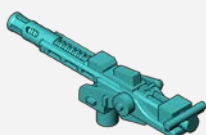

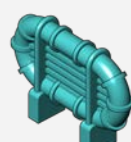

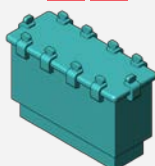

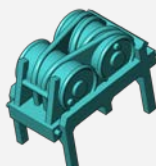

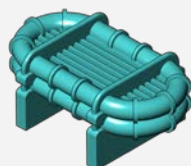

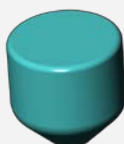

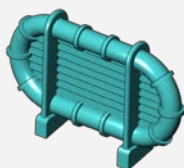

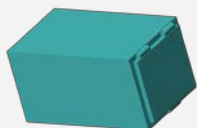

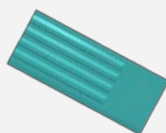

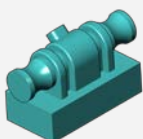

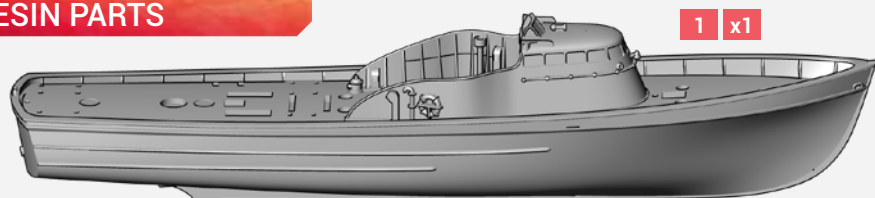

À propos des Cutters de 83' lors du 6 juin 1944 :

Les soixante cutter de 83 pieds qui formèrent la Rescue Flottilla One lors du 6 juin 1944, furent modifiés pour leur permettre de remplir leur rôle de bateau de sauvetage. Les rails du Mousetrap, leurs casiers à munitions, les charges de profondeurs sont supprimés, et dans quelques cas des radeaux supplémentaires sont ajoutés sur les côtés du poste de pilotage.

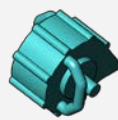

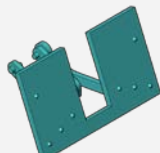

Le camouflage est remplacé par le Measure 14 plus foncé, et les codes habituels sont remplacés par des numéros allant de 1 à 60. Le cutter CGC-6 est fameux pour son emblème à la tête de mort.

La notice et les plans de décoration ont été conçus après l'étude de quelques bâtiments. Pour monter un navire spécifique, il est recommandé de vérifier la documentation et les photos disponibles.
